Sunken boat blocking traffic

BY ED LEPOMA

Hancock County supervisors have asked the Department of Marine Resources to raise a sunken shrimp boat in the Bay of St. Louis, but help might take a long time coming.

District 3 Supervisor Lisa Coward said she has had several calls about the large shrimp boat that is sunk off Cedar Point near the shipping channel and near the mouth of the Jourdan River.

She got supervisors to pass a resolution asking the DMR to raise the vessel, but a Coast Guard spokesman said, "It's not that easy."

Mark Engler, officer in charge of the Coast Guard's

Aids to Navigation Team stationed in Gulfport, said his office was first informed of the sunken boat on Aug. 28. He sent a team out to mark the area with a lighted buoy.

"It apparently was being towed somewhere for repair," said Engler. "There was no engine and fuel aboard when it went down."

Under procedures, Engler said the Coast Guard attempts to find the last known owner.

"Sometimes that's hard to track down, since these things often go from one owner to the next over a short period of time," he said.

Higher education meeting schedule

BY RICHARD MEEK

Hancock County civic, business, education and government leaders will convene with representatives of the Mississippi Institutions of Higher Learning on Thursday to discuss the study of academic needs along the Gulf Coast.

The meeting is scheduled from 8:30-10 p.m. in the Hancock County Library conference room in Bay St. Louis.

The Mississippi Institutions of Higher Learning are studying the academic program needs on the Gulf Coast. The study will encompass current and future need and demand for degree programs at the associate, baccalaureate, graduate and professional levels, and how Mississippi colleges and universities can meet those

Landfill sites opposed

BY ED LEPOMA

Talks have not yet turned serious about a new Hancock County landfill, but the opposition is already heating up over two proposed sites in the NASA buffer zone near Picayune.

The reaction was fast and furious earlier this week over sites proposed off Flat Top Road near the Pearl River-Hancock County border.

Aldermen question pier engineering fees

BY BETSY GAGNET

As the Waveland Board of Aldermen prepares to move forward with the city's plan for the expansion of Garfield Ladner Municipal Pier, a question was raised concerning the payment of engineering fees on the project.

At the last August board meeting, authorization was given to pay the engineer, Eaton and Associates of Jackson, $16,262. Of that amount, $16,103 represented the amount owed for design services completed and bid above the original agreement.

Engineer Ray Eaton had previously been paid fees of $16,400 for work already completed on the project.

It could take from 90 to 120 days before the Department of Marine Resources could legally raise a 70-foot shrimp boat sunk in the Bay of St. Louis off Cedar Point and close to the shipping channel. (Echo staff photo by Richard Meek)

Preservation committee holds first meeting

BY MARY G. SEILEY

A panel of citizens met for the first time Tuesday to organize itself as the Bay St. Louis Preservation Ordinance Advisory Committee, electing Charles Gray as chairman.

All but one of the 12 members were on hand for the session, agreeing to meet monthly to hammer out a proposed ordinance dealing with historic properties. The work could last months, or years, and is subject to adoption or rejection by City Council.

In overviews of the committee's mission Tuesday, Gray and city staffer Mike Cuevas said the committee may want to see the size of the city's historic district expanded from its current boundaries, and will recommend "design guidelines" dealing with changes to properties in the district.

In addition, the committee will make recommendations on creating a governmental body that will administer the new rules.

As it stands, the city has 578 different properties listed on the National Register of Historic Places. That's the third largest collection of historic properties in the state, Gray said.

There is no protection for old structures on the books in Bay St. Louis currently.

City Council and the mayor appointed the advisory committee in hopes of changing that. "The mayor and city council are very pro active

Salary for Bay mayor clarified

A headline and story in the Thursday edition of the Sea Coast Echo erroneously stated that Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre's proposed salary represents a 45 percent increase.

Favre's salary is tied to the national rate of inflation and is adjusted accordingly every July.

The error occurred because the mayor's proposed budget for 1997-98 shows a $79,650 salary for the mayor's office, compared with his current salary of $54,757.

In an interview, the mayor stated that the $79,650 figure is not a true reflection of his salary for the coming year, since the salary is tied to inflation as determined in July.

The mayor failed to state, however, that, due to a format change from previous years, the proposed figure also includes the salary for his secretary.

Favre said Friday the practice of tying the mayor's salary to the inflation rate was established under the previous administration.

Fees

When the motion was made to pay Eaton the additional sum, Alderman Jay Fleuriet called for discussion on the matter, stating that a cap of $7,000 had been put on engineering fees for the project in February of 1996.

The minutes for that February meeting indicate that a $7,000 cap was placed on Eaton's fees for work done on rezoning for the pier area.

Fleuriet maintains that despite what is reflected in the minutes, the intent of the $7,000 cap voted on in February 1996 was to be the total amount paid to Eaton for the pier design project.

Fleuriet said he did not vote for any amount over $7,000.

"When it went over $7,000, I started opposing," he said.

In addition to design fees paid, Eaton will also be paid a fee for construction administration in the range of $4,000, bringing the total fee cost to approximately $36,962.

The low construction bid on the entire final design, submitted by Beacon Construction Company of Biloxi, totaled $460,644.

Based on the overall construction costs, Eaton's fees represent close to an eight percent fee, a figure which Waveland Mayor John Mason said he finds acceptable.

Further, Mason said Eaton's fees were to be based on the total construction costs.

According to Mason, there is no "signed contract per say with Eaton," but the official city's minutes reflect authorization to retain Eaton to handle the project.

Eaton explained that the city's Tidelands funding application for fiscal year 1997 included engineering fees of $20,500, which were based on construction costs of $200,000.

That application delineated cost estimates on a pier extension, roadway overlay and additional parallel and diagonal parking, six additional roadway lights, four pagodas, new overhead entranceway with gates, survey and soundings, and soil investigations.

Mason said he was aware that the sum reflected in the 1997 application for funding did not represent the total fees.

"We knew there were going to be other engineering fees involved," Mason explained. "It would be naive to think if you got a construction bid of over $400,000, that all there would be is a $20,500 fee."

Following the submission of the 1997 funding application, design changes were made and other projects were added by the city as it was realized that more Tidelands funds were available, according to Eaton.

The final design, which was unanimously approved by the aldermen, included enlarged pagodas, repair and renovation to the existing pier and ranger station, a bait shop, and covered benches on the pier itself.

Eaton said the 1997 application was a preliminary budget prepared for about $200,000 in construction costs. He explained that once the city moved into the design phase, it was realized that the actual pier itself, including the repair and renovation to the existing pier and the ranger station, would take most of the money excluding the pagodas, bait shop, entranceway etc.

After receiving the bids on the project, the aldermen voted to proceed with the base bid and two of the alternates. This includes construction of a pier extension, along with renovation to the existing pier and to the ranger station, and construction of an entranceway.

The other portions will have to be rebid if more Tidelands funding is received. Those bids may very well come back higher if construction costs in the area continue to rise.

Eaton said although future construction bids may come back higher, his fees for what has been designed are paid in full.

"I will not charge any more. If bids come in 20 percent higher, I have been paid," Eaton said. "Unless the city wants some additional change in the scope of services, I will not charge any more for design work except for the restrooms, which have not been designed yet."

Public Works Director Steve Landry said it is not unusual for engineers and architects to be paid on a percentage of construction costs, based on a sliding scale.

"When I look at the final numbers and the amount (Eaton) is being paid, I am very comfortable with it," Landry said.

Waveland City Attorney Ronnie Artigues, Jr. said the city's actions are all legal, even without a signed contract.

"I don't think anything was done illegally," said Artigues. "From a business standpoint that's their decision, not mine."

At this point the city will have to wait to see if any additional funds are forthcoming before proceeding with the construction on other designs already paid for.

City officials are confident more funding will be received.

"I'm optimistic that there will be more funds, based on the project," said Alderman Tommy Longo who has been heavily involved in the Tidelands funding application process. "I've had a lot of good vibes."

Second hearing held on Waveland's budget

BY BETSY GAGNET

The Waveland Board of Aldermen held a second public hearing Friday night to solicit public comment on the latest proposed city 1997-98 budget.

The most significant revision was a change in the proposed pay raises for city employees.

The proposal calls for a flat $700 across the board pay raise for employees, which will mean anywhere from a 2.6 to 10 percent increase per employee.

The original proposal by Mayor John Mason called for a raise of three percent plus $300 for most city employees.

The difference in total costs between the two proposals comes to $9,159, according to City Secretary Lisa Planchard.

That money has been earmarked to capital outlay in the streets department together with $20,000 no longer allocated to purchase one police vehicle. That vehicle is anticipated to be purchased by the Hancock County Narcotics Task Force and a decision was made that it did not have to be included in the budget.

The allocation of the $29,159 (the differential between the two raise proposals plus the $20,000 for the car) to capital outlay in the streets department was a point of discrepancy during the meeting.

Mason was asked why the money was not used to reduce the transfer from the city's Capital Improvement Fund into the General Fund.

He responded that he was "not a CPA" and was a little confused by the (reporter's) "lingo."

Planchard responded that the allocation was at the aldermen's instruction.

Alderman Tommy Longo, however, said it was his intention that the money be "returned" to the general obligation bond.

Alderman Jay Fleuriet said he had not been consulted on the matter.

The city floated a $1.25 million bond issue last year to fund improvements in the city's drainage and sewage systems, street paving and to retire a debt on a fire truck.

There also may be some confusion over how many police vehicle purchases were thought to be budgeted, five or six. The current proposed budget includes allocations for six vehicles in addition to the one anticipated from the task force.

However, a proposal at the first budget meeting called for the purchase of five vehicles plus the NTF vehicle.

Following the meeting, Longo said there was still "some fine tuning to be done."

Monday is the deadline for adoption of the budget. A special meeting has been scheduled for Monday at 6 p.m. to adopt the budget.

Animal abuse suspect pleads not guilty

BY ED LEPOMA

A northwest Hancock County man charged with animal abuse and neglect faces trial in Justice Court Sept. 23.

William "the cat man" Strempler, 68, of 12004 Circle G Ranch Road in Kiln, was arraigned on the charges Tuesday, and pleaded not guilty.

Acting on a tip from a concerned citizen, Sheriff's deputies swooped down on Strempler's residence Aug. 29, and found an estimated 75 to 100 cats living in squalor with no water and little food in a structure a few hundred feet from Strempler's house.

Officials said they had no choice but to kill the animals. There was no space to house them at shelters in Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River Counties, and the costs to test the animals individually for diseases and inoculate them would have been prohibitive, according to Dr. Michael Lee of Kiln. In all, an estimated 79 cats were euthanized.

Lee submitted a bill to Hancock County supervisors for putting the animals to sleep and disposing of them.

The cost to taxpayers: $495.

Animal abuse and cruelty is a misdemeanor in Mississippi, and carries a fine of $500 and up to 10 days in jail on each count.

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Note, there will be no Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Business After Hours for the month of September, Cindy Vernon, executive director, reports. The After Hours scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 18, has been canceled.

Starting on Monday, we have to enter a new number in our memory and that number is 228.

Our area code for the coastal counties changes to 228 on Monday.

It is my understanding persons outside the area may dial the 228 or 601 for a period of one year.

I realize that the area code of 601 has been around a very long time, and it will be hard for me to remember the new number.

Making that change will even be harder than remembering the use of a new year in January.

The new area code can be attributed to growing pains.

The main reason for the issuance a new area code, according to BellSouth, is because of the tremendous growth of Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties.

Our state has gotten too large for just one area code. One must remember when ordering stationery or business cards to make the area code change, too.

Somehow there is a need in our area for young boys and girls to learn the proper operation of bicycles.

On Thursday of the past week I was traveling on Felicity Street in Bay St. Louis, and there were two boys on bikes in front of me traveling in the same direction.

The problem was that one was on the left side of the roadway and the other on the right side. Now, one of them (both looked age 10-12) was on the wrong side of the road.

I know our police departments visits the schools and explain safety rules to students, but apparently it does not sink into the heads of some of the youngsters.

Possibly parents whose children have bicycles need to pay more attention to their kids' riding habits.

One of the worst accidents for a newspaper reporter to respond to is when a child on a bicycle is struck by a vehicle.

Dads and moms need to make sure their youngsters know the rules of the road.

If you do not know the rules yourself, give your police department a call. I am sure they have brochures on the subject.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Former Representative responds on Tidelands/Imperial controversy

Dear Editor:

As a former legislator who helped write the Public Trust Tidelands Law, I would like to provide as little historical perspective on the Imperial Palace controversy.

Before the legalization of gaming in Mississippi, a commission of state leaders from the private and public sector was formed to recommend a state policy to protect our Gulf Coast. The Tidelands Commission offered policy recommendations to the legislature, who passed them into law.

The Lease Program Management Committee of the Tidelands Commission wrote in 1989 that "responsible leading of the public trust tidelands creates opportunities for conservation, reclamation, and preservation of the trust a" (It) also creates opportunities for controlled development."

Responsible leasing is based on trust. The law says the Secretary of State is the trustee of the property and manages the tidelands "in trust" for all the people of Mississippi. It is the job of the Secretary of State, therefore, to look after the people's interest. In the case of the Imperial Palace casino, that means making sure the people are paid their rent.

All of us on the Coast benefit from the tidelands program. In my City of Gautier, we recently received a $75,000 check. Since the legalization of gaming in Mississippi, more than $15 million of tidelands lease revenue has been dedicated to improve the Coast.

The Imperial Palace, owned by Mr. Ralph Engelstad, has not paid the state one cent. By deliberately ignoring the law, they have not only cost the taxpayers of Mississippi thousands of dollars in lawyer's fees, they have put the future of responsible-economic growth and development at risk. It's almost as if

Mr. Engelstad has decided to use his immense wealth to see what he can get away with. If he intends to sign a lease, why won't he do it?

Dr. Eric Clark is doing what the people elected him to do. As trustee, he is protecting our property. When the Tidelands Commission made its recommendations, and the Legislature passed the law, we know we would need a statewide elected official to enforce it fairly.

Of all the officials charged with the oversight of the gaming industry on the Gulf Coast, only the Secretary of State is directly answerable to all the people of Mississippi. All other decisions are made by bureaucrats and political appointees. We need the Secretary of State to speak for our interests and, thank goodness, he has.

The appointed members of the Gaming Commission should do the same thing. Their own rules require that they refuse to allow a casino to open without a lease.

The fact that the Gaming Commission has so far avoided public scrutiny shows why we need the Secretary of State involved in the process. The Gaming Commission cannot be "neutral" where the law is threatened. They should follow their rules and require Imperial Palace to sign a lease with the Secretary of State.

Our tidelands are too valuable to lose. When I came to Mississippi as a member of the U.S. Air Force, I fell in love with its natural beauty. The actions of the Imperial Palace jeopardize the future of the Coast that so many have worked to protect.

Sincerely,
Raymond Vecchio
Former member of the Mississippi House of Representatives and the Blue Ribbon Commission on Public Trust Tidelands.

Term limits are every four years, legislator says

To the Editor:

At this time there are individuals moving throughout our state requesting signatures on a petition to limit the term of members of our State Legislature. Most of these individuals requesting signatures are not citizens of our state and are paid a certain amount for each signature. I oppose both the use of out-of-state "hired guns" and also the terms limits proposal.

My question is: What is wrong with our present system where we have term limits every four years? If a legislator's constituents — the people who know him or her best — want to vote him or her out of office, they already have the right to do so.

This happens often. Over the last 10 years we have had a 75 percent turnover in the Senate and a 70 percent turnover in the House. Voters practice term limits on legislative performance, not on his or her tenure in office.

Experience is a valuable asset for a farmer, doctor or a contractor, and experience is just as needed and true for a legislator. Term limits will negate this important factor.

Seniority is important in the legislative process, and term limits will impact both rural Mississippi and our few urban areas. Presently there is a cohesive working relationship in all parts of our state that needs to be nurtured and maintained.

The most troubling consequence of term limits will be each citizen's right to vote for the best person to represent them in the Legislature. I believe that Mississippians are well qualified to make their own personal decision as to whom to elect or reelect to the Legislature. Term limits will eliminate that free

Technicalities

By State Auditor Phil Bryant

COUNTIES

Q: May the board of supervisors appoint the board attorney as a disinterested individual to serve as hearing officer on delinquent garbage fees?

A: No. (Attorney General's Opinion to Walley dated June 13, 1997).

MUNICIPALITIES

Q: May a municipality do business with a former board member?

A: Not until one year after leaving office. (Section 25-4-105(2) and Miss. Constitution Section 109).

Q: May a municipality do business with its officers or employees; or their relatives (parent, spouse or child)?

A: No. (Section 25-4-105 and Miss. Constitution Section 109).

Q: May a municipality do business with a former board member?

A: Only with statutory authority. (Sections 21-17-5 and Miss. Constitution Section 66).

Q: Where can a municipal board find the State Auditor's regulations for budgeting, accounting, travel, petty cash and audit contracts?

A: In the "Municipal Audit and Accounting Guide".

Q: What rules must a municipality follow when purchasing supplies?

A: Its own policies for purchase orders and procedures; and bid laws requiring quotes for purchases over fifteen hundred ($1,500) and advertisement for purchases over five thousand dollars ($5,000). (Section 31-7-13).

Q: Should appointed officers be reappointed for the new term by the new board?

A: Yes. (Section 21-3-5).

Q: When must a municipality publicize and hold its budget hearing; and adopt the budget and tax levy?

A: During August and September. (Sections 27-39-205, 21-35-5 and 21-33-45).

GENERAL

Q: If a person gets a land sale tax deed to property that has a federal income tax lien against it, will the federal lien remain or will the tax deed give the person clear ownership?

A: The issuance of a tax deed does not extinguish a federal tax lien. (Attorney General's Opinion to Miller dated February 14, 1997).

Q: If an individual at a tax sale makes a bid in excess of the taxes owed on a parcel of property in the tax sale, may the individual be repaid the excess amount of the bid if the property is redeemed?

A: No. The excess of a bid over the amount of taxes owned is placed in the general fund, and may be paid to the owner of the land if requested within two years from the expiration of the redemption period. An individual purchasing at a tax sale may not be repaid any bid amount in excess of the taxes owed. (Section 27-41-77).

Give welfare reform a chance

Earn $36,400 income. Enjoy beautiful sand beaches amid tropical setting in exotic Hawaii. No experience (or work) necessary.

Interested?

Sorry, you're a little late.

Until welfare reform came along seven states and the District of Columbia were paying the equivalent of a $25,000 a year job simply for being poor. Hawaii topped the list. A real-work job would have had to pay more than $17.50 per hour to match what welfare paid in pineapple land.

When critics lament the demise of welfare-as-we-have-known-it, we need to search our memories and remember the excesses that forced the choice. Freedom of choice in electing government representatives is central to American values.

The citizens of this state have my vote of confidence, and I am sure that each Mississippian will carefully consider these damaging consequences of term limits. I urge you to refuse to sign any petition for term limits and to vote against any constitutional amendment proposing such limits.

Sincerely,
Charlie Capps Jr.
Chairman,
Appropriations Committee
Mississippi House of Representatives

reforms.

Look at these facts:
* In 29 states welfare paid more than the average starting salary for a secretary.

* In 40 states welfare paid more than an $8 an hour job.

* In seven states welfare paid more than a $12 an hour job. Contrast that to Mississippi which had one of the highest percentages of persons on welfare in the nation, but paid a wage equivalent of less than $12,000.

It's easy to see why there was a nationwide cry to bring sanity to a system out of control. Congress took a deep breath and did what state legislatures in some states wouldn't do — apply the brakes to handouts and move toward a system of work and responsibility. But today legions of critics have marshaled forces to try and restore "entitlements."

The debate has moved from the headlines to the unreported maneuvering in the back rooms and hallways of the nation's Capitol and state legislative chambers.

Thus far there seems to be an attitude of giving the reforms a chance.

Working citizens griping about tax dollars being taken from their hard-earned payroll checks were the ones who sparked fires that got the politicians moving.

It will be a fool of a politician who doesn't remember.

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Convenience over safety

As I sat parked, waiting for a freight train to go by, three youths in their early teens walked up to the train, looked at each other and back at the train. Once more check with each other, and they darted under a large tank car.

Hair-raising is putting it mildly. A semi-stumble, a ankle slightly turned on a rock, a tiny timing error, and there would have been a gruesome scene of mince meat on the track. That weird little incident happened some 20 years ago.

Well, railroad crossings are back in the big news, and it is mainly adults who are the culprits in taking death-defying risks at the crossings, although teen-age drivers to too.

Federal Railroad Administration statistics show that deaths from train-passenger vehicle collisions nationwide are down from last year by about 100, from 579 to 471, though some states, such as Louisiana, have a slightly higher toll.

Oddly, it has been found that, while very few people run a stop sign at an intersection, many of the same few will speed over a railroad crossing. With troubling inconsistency, people tend to view rail crossing laws as a plain old nuisance.

Riding the rails in the cab of the train engine in recent days, some state police raised new hair observing near-miss after near-miss by drivers who just couldn't wait for the train to pass.

Convenience, obviously, is of more value than safety to those drivers who constantly risk their life and limb at railroad crossings and elsewhere. But they are not alone.

Just this morning, I was pulling off as the light changes from red to green. Starting out after the light had changed and looking me squarely in the eyes, a man well into his seventies and hobbling with a cane crossed in front of me.

Safety over convenience? No way. Dragging one foot at snail's pace, his only hope could have been that I was not an aggressive driver who would run right up and bump him.

After dropping off two passengers, I was winding my way home. A man in his twenties, walking with a friend in the middle of the street, bent over to get something on the street with his derriere, not his attention turned toward me.

Routinely, women carrying their baby walk with their backs to the traffic, fully involved in talk or other activity, with no attention to life-threatening cars and trucks.

What is this rampant inversion of convenience and life, this careless spurning of danger, this compulsion to do what is easiest, even if it means one's limbs and life may be in jeopardy, injured or terminated?

Finally, many New Orleans cabbies, 12 of whom have been murdered in the last three years, are rejecting bullet-proof shields as being too inconvenient, too clumsy for air conditioning.

Convenience over safety? In the last handful of years, not one cabby was killed in New York since bullet-proof shields were introduced. Are lives worth money, time, inconvenience?

Instant gratification (convenience) is secular culture's driving force which makes us hungry for instant coffee and soup, the easiest path, quick fixes, and oblivion of Jesus' command that we put sacredness of life above all convenience.

Tigers lose to Vancleave, 21-7

BY RANDY PONDER
The Vancleave Bulldogs scored two late touchdowns to beat the visiting Bay High Tigers 21-7 Friday night in high school football.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Bulldogs mounted a 70 yard, 11 play drive for the first points of the game with 7:10 remaining in the second period. Two Bay High penalties helped to keep the Vancleave drive alive, a personal foul and an off-sides call.

Vancleave quarterback Troy Henson connected on an 18 yard pass to wide receiver Jeremy Wells at the Tigers' goal line for the only score of the first half.

The point-after-touchdown was good but the Bulldogs incurred a five yard penalty and were forced to rekick. The second PAT attempt was no good, leaving Vancleave on top 6-0.

A fired-up bunch of Tigers took the second half kick-off and marched 76 yards on eight plays to take a 7-6 lead.

Quarterback Tank Williams started the drive with a hand-off to Rendell Haynes for a five yard gain. Two plays later, Williams hit Ben Taylor for 16 yards on a pass to the Tiger 45.

Williams took the next snap, rolled out to his right on what appeared to be a keeper, but just before being shoved out of bounds, he surprised the Bulldogs by pitching the ball to Tony Medina. The Tiger tight-end reached the Vancleave 41 for another Bay High first down.

Following a five yard off-sides penalty against Vancleave, Tyree Haynes took a hand-off and raced to the Bulldog 23. Haynes carried for eight more, to the 15, on the next play.

On his third consecutive run, Haynes almost broke through for a score. On a determined run straight up the middle, the Tiger back reached the Vancleave three setting up first-and-goal for Bay High.

Williams got the points on a keeper to the left side. George Piazza split the uprights for the extra point, giving the Tigers the lead in the game.

Vancleave would not be denied however, and took the ensuing kick and moved into Tiger territory to reclaim the lead, 9-7, on a 33 yard field goal.

Near the end of the third stanza, the Tigers gambled and lost when they elected to try a reverse on a fourth-and-one. The play was stopped for a loss, giving Vancleave the ball at the Bay High 37. The Bulldogs quickly capitalized.

On the first play of the final quarter, Chad Pylate took a hand-off and broke free from a would be tackle and raced 23 yards for the touchdown. The PAT again was wide of the mark, keeping the Tigers' hopes alive with the Bulldogs up only 15-7.

Those hopes were dashed when Vancleave scored again several minute later on another big play.

This time a wide open Isaac

Bilbo caught a short pass and raced 41 yards for the clinching TD with 7:30 left in the game.

"Our guys gave a great effort," Tiger head coach David Baughman said. "We never quit, we just didn't make the plays we had to make."

Bay High used two quarterbacks in the game, Williams and tenth grader Ty Barrett. "We tried to throw the ball a little more, get it into the hands of Williams when Barrett is in."

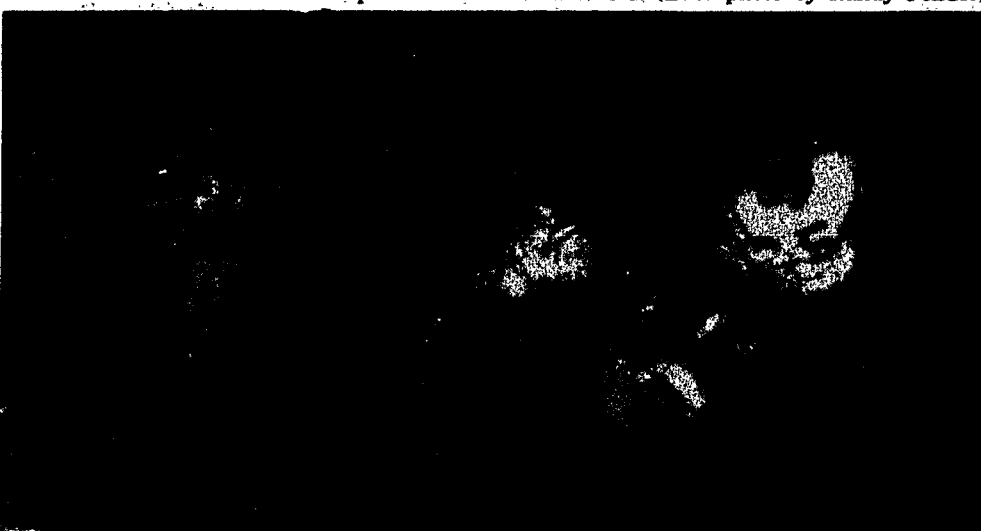

"Our defense has just play magnificently the past two games. They have played well enough to win. We just need to get the offense on track," Baughman stated. "We have cut down mistakes, we just have to take advantage with an opportunity presents itself. We have to have plays offensively."

The Tigers will play their first home game next Friday against Poplarville. Kick-off is set for 7:30 p.m.

Pirates win third, 26-6 over Eagles

BY DWYANE BREMER

The Pass Christian Pirates moved their record to 3-0 Friday night with a 26-6 victory over the St. John Eagles.

"Our guys rose to the occasion, they did the job and I am proud of all of them," said Pirate head coach Gavin Lott.

Both teams stumbled out of the gate, but it was the Pirates who capitalized on the first Eagle mistake.

The Eagles had driven down to the Pirate six when quarterback Danny Courtney threw a pass picked off by Carl Bouser, who ramblled 93 yards for the first score.

"Someone got a good hit on the quarterback, and I was in the right place," said Bouser. The point after failed, but the Pirates had the early 6-0 lead.

The Eagles managed to tie the score in the second quarter after they recovered a muffed punt at the Pirate 24. They took seven plays, before Thomas Carter took it in from two yards out. The point after was blocked, and with 10:04 left in the first half the score was tied at 6-6.

Defense dominated the rest of the second quarter, and the two teams went into the break tied at 6-6.

"We had some chances but, we shot ourselves in the foot," said Lott.

The Eagles opened play in the second half at their own 35. On the first play Carter fumbled, and Brandon Barber pounced on it at the 40. The Pirates moved down to the 18 then they fumbled to give the ball back to the Eagles. Saint John was generous, however, as they gave it right back to the Pirates on a fumble recovered by Brad Dewitt at the 24.

Pass Christian took advantage this time as Daniel Harvey gained six yards, then busted loose for 18 yards more and a Pirate touchdown.

"There were some good blocks, and I saw daylight," said Harvey, who had 131 yards on 21 carries. The Pirates went for two but were unsuccessful, and with 8:21 to go in the third quarter the score was 12-6.

On the Pirates next drive they set up at their own 44. Seven plays later they were at the 14. Daniel Harvey took it in from there for his second score.

The point after was good and the Pirates had a 19-7 lead with 2:23 left in the third quarter.

The Pirate defense took up the slack on the next two drives, not letting the Eagles even get a first down. Guy Alexander and Johnny Lott had sacks, and with 8:08 left in the game the Pirates got the ball at their own 46.

From there the Pirates drove nine plays for a score. On a fourth down play from the 28, Carl Bouser took the ball on a reverse, broke some tackles and scored. "The line blocked like hogs," said Bouser. The point after was good and with 4:27 left the Pirates had a 26-6 lead.

Kenny Peoples picked off a pass with :47 seconds left and the Pirates had secured their third victory.

"Our guys played hard and showed a lot of character tonight; I am happy for all of them," said Lott.

"Everyone has been working hard, the line blocked great, and the coaches called some great plays. Everything is coming together," said Daniel Harvey.

Bearcats bite Rocks for 41-3 victory

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws entered Friday's game with Long Beach hoping to exact some revenge against the Bearcats, a team they had not beaten since 1991. But it wasn't meant to be. The Bearcats used their speed to roll up 481 yards of total offense en route to a 41-3 victory over the Rocks in Bay St. Louis.

Coach Dave Kenson commented, "Speed is a problem and when people are not in the right place then it becomes a major problem."

The Rocks opened the game on defense. Long Beach established the passing game quickly with a strike from Micky D'Angelo to Robert Lewis for 14 yards and a first down. Two plays later D'Angelo hit Lewis again for nine yards. The drive stalled with a Bearcat penalty and Long Beach punted to SSC.

SSC fumbles the kickoff and Long Beach gets a second chance at the Rock-a-chaw 34 yard line. The Rocks hold tough allowing minimal gains and on fourth down Lawrence Coker bats away a pitch and Andy Brown falls on the loose ball.

The Rocks strike big on their first play from scrimmage as Wes Ehler hits a wide-open Steven Knight for a gain of 34 yards and a first down. Brown pushed his way through the middle for a gain of eight yards but the drive stalled two plays later. SSC's Philippe Michel lined up for a 36 yard field goal that was good but a Rock penalty forced them to kick it over. This time Michel missed a 41 yard field goal.

Long Beach started a 10 play drive from the Rock 20 yard line. D'Angelo used his passing game to move the Bearcats down the field. He hit Lewis for a 12 yard gain and a first down. He moved the chains again by hitting Kenny Boone for a gain of 16 yards. D'Angelo had a huge gain for the Bearcats when he found Brad McGill for a total of 39 yards and another first down.

Three plays later D'Angelo hit Lewis for a six yard touchdown with :01 to go in the first quarter. Daniel Redo missed the PAT leaving the score at 6-0.

The Bearcats kicked off to the Rocks. SSC could not muster anything on offense so the Rocks punted back to Long Beach.

The Bearcats started an 11 play drive from their own 38 yardline. DeAndre Williams led the Bearcat drive off with a 31 yard run and a first down. Long Beach had minimal gains to keep the drive going until D'Angelo was sacked for a seven yard loss by Coker forcing the Bearcats to kick a field goal. Redo lines up for a 31 yard field goal attempt. The kick was blocked by Brown and Roger Ridgeway leaving the score at 6-0.

The Rocks are still not able to move the ball against the Bearcats and are forced to punt away.

It only takes Long Beach four plays to score. Williams runs for 23 yards and a first down. The next play saw D'Angelo hit Marshall Blanks for an 18 yard gain and another first down. Williams then goes off tackle for a 12 yard score at the 8:41 mark of the second quarter. The two-point conversion from D'Angelo to Lewis was good making the score 14-0.

The Rocks began moving the ball after the ensuing kickoff. Ehler hit Trey Moses for a 20 yard gain and a first down. Then Ehler connects with Stephen Peterman for another 20 yard gain. The drive stalls out three plays later and the Rocks settle for a field goal.

Michel makes good on his 24 yard field goal attempt with :24 left to go in the first half leaving the score 14-3.

The Rocks offense stalls on the first possession of the second half and had to punt away.

The Bearcat offense wasted no time in scoring. Long Beach took two plays to hit paydirt. D'Angelo hit Boone for a 52 yard scoring pass at the 9:53 mark of the third quarter. Redo made the PAT making the score 21-3.

Williams scored for Long Beach on the second play from scrimmage with a 59 yard scoring run at the 7:42 mark of the third quarter. Redo made good on the PAT and the score was 28-3.

The Rocks went three plays and out and punted from their own 29 yard line. Lewis ran the punt back 66 yards for a Long Beach touchdown at the end of the third quarter. Redo's PAT is blocked by Coker leaving the score at 34-3.

The Rocks went three plays and out and had to punt to the Bearcats. Long Beach mounted a seven play drive that was blocked by Brown and Roger Ridgeway leaving the score at 34-3.

The Rocks are still not able to move the ball against the Bearcats and are forced to punt away. The Bearcat drive was highlighted by a first down run of 48 yards by Freeman and an 11 yard run by Aaron Taylor.

The Rocks threw three incomplete passes and had to punt away to Long Beach. Taylor takes the punt at the Long Beach 45 yard line and goes 55 yards for the score at the 4:48 mark of the fourth quarter. Redo makes the PAT and the score is 41-3.

On the ensuing Rock possession, SSC was intercepted on the first play by Williams.

Long Beach ended the game with two first down runs of 10 and 17 yards by Nick Walgren.

Coach Kenson stated, "We had some crucial mistakes in the first half but we played with Long Beach. We tried to make adjustments at halftime but they just came out and outplayed us in the second half. Their return man, Robert Lewis, is a threat on the field."

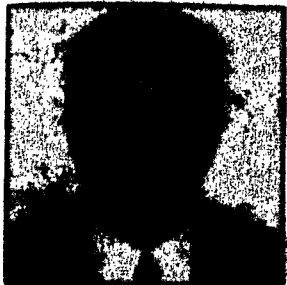

"We had a plan against him but we just did not execute the plan."

"Our passing game was much better tonight. The pass protection from Scott Modenbach, Willie Golden, David Byrne, Travis Fucich, and Joseph Carabmat was the best we have had this year. They did a great job."

The Rocks totaled only 118 yards of total offense as opposed to Long Beach's 481 yards. Ehler had eight completions in 27 attempts for 83 yards.

SSC hosts Vancleave next week at the Brother Philip Memorial Stadium. The Rocks are 0-3 while Vancleave is 3-0 and coming off a 21-7 win over the Bay High Tigers.

Ditka Dialogue

• (Opening statement)

"Not very much changed from yesterday. Irv (Smith) is going to have an MRI on his knee so we'll know more about that later. I think so is Ray Zellers. He's got a bruise. He said he got hit on it, thought it was a bruise. During the game he had ice on it. Basically that's all. The rest of them should be fine.

• (On Irv Smith's status for Sunday's game)

"I don't know. I would doubt that Irv will play. We signed John Farquhar, who is a tight end who was with Pittsburgh, played at Duke. John's a good blocker and he should be able to help block for us. We released Donald Willis today. That's about it, really.

• (On Donald Willis)

"He played a little better than he did in the Oakland game in the Chicago game, but it just didn't work the way I hoped it did or he hoped it did. I really had high hopes for Donald, and it didn't work out, so we've got to go on our way. Right now (Mike) Verstegen has turned into a pretty good football player and Chris (Naeole) played pretty solid football. He had a holding penalty but he played pretty solid in the game. He looked pretty good. And Andy (McCollum) is getting better and better every week. So we're pretty solid. We still have Ed (King) and I don't know what we're going to do. We'll have to make a decision in there."

• (On Chris Naeole)

"We'll probably get him in the starting lineup, maybe not this week, but he's going to play half of the game regardless. He really has improved tremendously over a year's period of time. I was very impressed with a lot of things he does. He has good ability to pull and cut people. He's done some good things. Believe it or not, there were some good things on offense, a lot of good blocking. We made a couple of bad decisions running the ball. We took it inside when the plays were designed to go outside. We ended up getting hurt by those plays and if we would have went outside we might have had big gains. Troy (Davis) is going to continue to play in there. I know he's dropped the ball a couple of times. He's just got to learn to hold on to it. We've got to work on that — do some gauntlet drills for him — because he's a good runner.

• (On things going wrong)

"Sometimes that happens. I've been there before. When things start going wrong, it seems like everything goes wrong. You don't get any breaks. You don't get a call here. It's like that fumble. That fumble could have bounced out of bounds just as easy as it bounced down to the goal line. It almost looks like Murphy's Law right now. What can go wrong will go wrong. I've been there. I've seen it. It'll change. The only way it will change is if we make it change. We've just got to stay away from the turnovers. The guys are out there trying. It's not a matter of not trying. It's frustrating to people. They don't want to hear it. When you say people are trying, they're paid a lot of money to do it. We're all paid money to do it. There are no excuses.

• (On the fans)

"It's not fun for me or these fans. I don't expect fans to condone the kind of offense we played. I hope they understand there are some good things happening. We have to have execution. I take responsibility. That is why I was hired to make them play ball. You don't wave a magic wand. Still, that is my obligation and my challenge. That is my stake in life."

• (On putting Danny Wuerffel in the game)

"No, not at all. There is no point in that right now. Heath is the quarterback. If it was a matter of taking him out and putting in a relief pitcher any time something goes wrong. It is not to say anything would have gone better with Danny in there the way we were playing. We weren't playing with a lot of consistency. Nothing they did surprised us that they did. We hit and missed. I didn't think about changing."

Rankings are prior to Monday night game.

The 49ers

San Francisco is tied for first in the NFC West with a 1-1 record. They average 209.5 yards a game on offense (119.5 rushing, 90 passing) — they allow an average of 246.5 yards a contest (107 rushing, 139.5 passing) — their plus-1 in the takeaway/giveaway department (6 takeaways, 5 giveaways) is tied for 10th in the NFL. They have amassed 24 first downs in 1997, 13th in the conference... they have allowed 26 first downs in 1997, which ranks third in the NFC... as a team, the 49ers have allowed 9 sacks in 1997, while registering 5 as a team.

QB Jim Druckenmiller has a quarterback rating of 19.3 after completing 10 of 28 for 102 yards, with 1 touchdown and 3 interceptions.

TE Brent Jones leads the 49ers with 5 receptions for 69 yards. RB Garrison Hearst leads the 49ers in rushing with 176 yards rushing on 34 carries (5.2 average) and 1 touchdown.

Series Notes

The 49ers are 38-15-2 all-time against the Saints, including a 27-11 win, 9/1/96 at 3Com Park, and an 24-17 win, 11/3/96 at the Superdome. The 49ers have captured nine of the last 11 matchups and 17 of the last 23. The Saints are a combined 64-104-2 against the NFC WEST, including a 35-36 mark since 1986.

THE LAST TIME:

49ers 24-Saints 17; 11/3/96.

The 49ers notched field goals in the first and second quarter before the Saints mounted a 55-yard scoring drive on their first series of the second quarter, set up by a Tyrone Hughes 57-yard kickoff return. San Francisco answered on their next possession with a touchdown and two-point conversion.

The 49ers added another field goal with 1:11 left in the third quarter, following an interception by Dedrick Dodge that was returned 26 yards to the Saints' 30.

The Saints responded on the fourth play of the fourth quarter with a touchdown that marked Michael Haynes' 400th career reception, cutting the margin to 17-14. Dexter Carter returned the ensuing kickoff 71 yards to the Saints' 21, setting up a Steve Young TD run. The Saints sustained a 16-play, 65-yard drive that resulted in a field goal with 2:16 remaining.

After stopping the 49ers, the Saints got the ball back at their own 20 with 1:00 to play, but could only get as far as their own 36. The Saints recorded a season-high six sacks, including two by Willie Broughton.

CLOSE CALLS:

Since 1987, 13 of the 20 meetings in this series have been decided by seven points or less, with the margin of victory in eight of those 13 having been three or less.

IN NO RUSH:

San Francisco has held New Orleans to less than 100 yards rushing in 14 of the last 17 games in this series, including 56 yards (18 atts.) in the first game of 1996, and 64 yards (288 atts.) in the second contest.

Over the last 20 games, the Saints have had just six rushing touchdowns, including just three in the last seven contests, and four in the last 10. San Francisco has rushed for more than 150 yards in four of the last five games against the Saints.

Youth Ice Hockey League registration opens

The second year of ice hockey at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum begins with another first — a Youth Ice Hockey League for ages 6-17.

"We're excited that the Coliseum will now be home to a Youth Hockey League," said Bill Holmes, Coliseum executive director.

"This brings a tremendous athletic opportunity to South Mississippi for our young people and certainly helps to strengthen our entire ice hockey program. The adult hockey league was an outstanding success last year and we look forward to having them back as well."

Registration for the league begins Sunday, Sept. 14 from noon-4 p.m. at Edgewater Mall just outside Gayfers Department Store. The fee for registration is $50.

For information, contact Jack Donovan at 868-7415.

The ice floor in the arena will be put in later this month for the Mississippi Sea Wolves training camp. Public ice skating will begin early in October followed by the Sea Wolves' opening night Oct. 16.

BHS Lady Tigers sweep Gulfport double header

The Bay High School Lady Tiger volleyball team took a double header from the Gulfport Lady Admirals Thursday night in the Tiger Dome.

In the first game, Bay High breezed to a 15-1 and 15-0 victory. In the nightcap, the Lady Tigers sunk the Lady Admirals 15-7 and 15-9.

Keeley Marshal scored ten points followed by teammate Taria Prejean with six. Chanda Haley scored six kills.

The Lady Tigers' season record is seven wins and one loss.

In the junior varsity contest, Ashley Ponder scored 17 points and Tracy Hall added eight as Bay High beat Gulfport 15-1 and 15-5. The JV has a record of five wins and two losses.

The Lady Tigers will host the Hancock Lady Hawks in the Tiger Dome on Tuesday, September 16. The JV contest starts at 6 p.m., followed by the varsity at 7 p.m.

St. Martin beats BHS

The Bay High School Lady Tigers suffered their first loss of the volleyball season Tuesday night at St. Martin, 6-15 and 13-15. Chanda Haley and Catha Tillman each had five points for Bay High.

In junior varsity action, the Lady Tigers swept St. Martin, 15-10 and 19-7. Ashley Ponder was high scorer with 14 points. The JV improved its record to 4-2 with the win.

SSC soccer meeting

The St. Stanislaus Kicker Club will hold its first meeting for the 1997-98 school year Tuesday, Sept. 16 at 6:30 p.m.

All parents who had a son participate in the program last year are encouraged to attend.

The meeting will take place in the school's Conference Room located in the downstairs level of the main building.

Shrimp waters expanded

Additional waters opened for commercial and recreational shrimping at Sunday, Sept. 7, according to the Department of Marine Resources Director Glade Woods.

In addition to waters opened at the beginning of shrimp season, waters which were closed to shrimping between Beacons 18 and 26 in the Biloxi Bay channel opened for shrimping.

"Shrimp season will close at midnight Dec. 31, except south of the Intracoastal Waterway," Woods said. "All state waters will close to shrimping activities except live bait shrimping at midnight April 30, 1998."

MUW professor hopes Di's tragedy can heighten media responsibility

Mississippi University for Women Assistant Professor of Journalism Larry Strout knows that the media's role in the death of Princess Diana further demeans the public image of journalists, but he hopes that public opinion — and journalistic ethics — is swinging back in the right direction.

"Right now," bemoans Dr. Strout, "members of the media are regarded about as highly as used car salesmen... no offense to used car salesmen. With the emergence of such competitive, market-driven media exemplified by tabloids, the competition is so keen that you're pushed to do almost anything you can to 'get the story.'"

"I think that, in light of the tragedy of Princess Diana's death, the pendulum will be swinging back toward respectability, that members of the media will begin to take note, to be more responsible, to treat people as people."

Strout — who joins the MUW faculty this fall as the new holder of the Harriet Stark Gibbons Chair in Journalism after a national search — is charged with training the next generation of journalists. He does so by focusing on the eternal verities of good journalism, writing and ethics.

"We can teach announcing," Strout explains, "and we can teach students how to use the equipment we have, but in five years the equipment will change. Writing doesn't change, and in the legitimate media, the good writers inevitably rise to the top."

Good journalism goes beyond concise writing, however. There is an ethical dimension to good journalism. "I have always taught a basic, ethics-driven way of journalism," says Strout, who previously taught at Florida State University, Ohio State University and the University of Southern Mississippi.

"I teach my students how to learn to do things ethically; then I tell them to go home and watch a show like 'Hard Copy.' They will see people doing things I've told them not to do, and I tell them that if they leave my program and want to work for a tabloid, they may do things differently than what I teach. But let's learn what will bring journalism back to respectability instead."

Strout's academic focus is the history of the media, so he has followed the development of journalistic ethics over a period of decades. His research has explored the media coverage of the McCarthy Era, the media's treatment of mental illness of political candidates almost two decades removed, and the sports media's coverage of the banning of "Shoeless" Joe Jackson and Pete Rose from baseball.

He has won awards for broadcast journalism from the Mississippi Association of Broadcasters and the Oklahoma Associated Press Broadcasters, and his students have won 12 regional awards from the Society of Professional Journalists.

Ethical guidelines have changed over time, says Strout, a media historian by specialty, but that doesn't excuse the actions of the paparazzi today.

"In the days of President Kennedy, journalists turned their heads to some of the things Kennedy did. They knew, but they didn't think the people needed to know. Those days have passed, but there are still legitimate ethical guidelines."

Journalists have to ask, "What is vital to this story? What is tasteful? What endangers people? You don't hurt people just for the sake of hurting people. Participating in a high-speed chase far beyond the speed limit, a chase that ends in a crash that kills three people and critically injures another one, crosses the line."

Beaches cleanup set

Saturday, Sept. 20 from 8-11 a.m., join the Friends of Mississippi Coasts (formerly Marine Trash Task Force) and thousands of volunteers at the 1997 Mississippi Coastal Cleanup.

The coastal cleanup is an annual worldwide event held to educate the public on the importance of keeping all coastlines free of marine debris.

Local businesses and state and federal agencies have extended their services and resources to encourage Coast residents to get involved in keeping the Gulf Coast beautiful.

The Friends of the Mississippi Coasts is a non-profit organization that will coordinate an expected 3,500 volunteers to clean along the Gulf Coast, the barrier islands and underwater.

To participate, contact one of the volunteer call-in numbers: Hancock County 467-9048, Harrison County 539-1265, Jackson County 762-8443, Barrier Islands 875-0074; and Underwater 385-7664.

Casinos host blood drive

Did you know that more than 300 blood donations are needed every day to meet area hospital patient needs? The American Red Cross, in conjunction with Casino Magic, is holding a blood drive Wednesday, Sept. 17, noon-6 p.m. at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis.

Casino Magic Biloxi is holding a blood drive Thursday, Sept. 18, 8 a.m.-2 p.m. and 3-8 p.m. at the valet parking area.

For information on donor qualifications, call the American Red Cross Blood Services, Gulf Coast Region at 896-6772.

Library's story hour

"Pigs" will be the theme for the children's story hour at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library Wednesday, Sept. 17 at 10:30 a.m.

The Old Woman and Her Pig, The Stick in Bed Birthday and Pigs on a Blanket are books to be read. Children will be making their own pig masks.

Weekly story hours are held September through May. Programs last approximately one hour.

The Kiln Library hosts a story hour every other Tuesday at 10:30 a.m.

Programs and activities are designed for pre-school age children three to five years old who are not part of a nursery or pre-school group.

For individual branch story hour information, contact David Woodburn, Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Public Library, 467-5282; Sandra Ladner, Kiln Library, 255-1724.

Golden anniversary

Rev. and Mrs. John E. Moore Sr. were married 50 years on Aug. 25 of this year.

Their children and the ladies of Leetown Community, where the couple has lived for more than 44 years, honored them with a celebration at the fellowship hall at Lee's Chapel No. 2 Baptist Church Saturday, Aug. 23. More than 400 people attended the festivities.

All five of their children, their 13 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren were in attendance. Bro. Moore has pastored several churches in southern Mississippi and Louisiana.

He was the pastor of Lee's Chapel for 27 years and is presently pastoring Catahoula Baptist Church in Hancock County.

Mrs. Moore taught elementary school at Hancock North Central for 10 years. She also taught at Gulfview Elementary in Lakeshore for one year and at Leetown Christian School for six years.

Meet the neighborhood millionaire

Millionaires. They drive fancy cars, hang out at ritzy country clubs and live in the swanky part of town. Right? Think again.

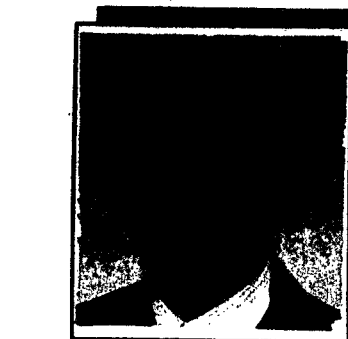

There's a good chance your next-door neighbor is a millionaire. Wait — before you turn to the comics, read on.

Thomas J. Stanley, who has studied the wealthy for more than 20 years, is the author of a new book called "The Millionaire Next Door." He first became interested in studying millionaires while working for a trust company. In that job, he was assigned to do a study on people with net worth of $10 million or more. Stanley arranged an elaborate function orchestrated by a food designer and gourmet wine consultant.

To his surprise, the people who attended drank beer.

"They were just 'good old boys' and first-generation millionaires," Stanley said.

This discovery led Stanley to profile the American millionaire. He found that most people who accumulate wealth in one generation are self-employed. They are self-reliant and disciplined, able to blend their business investing habits with their personal investing.

According to Stanley's studies, more than 80 percent of millionaires in America are first-generation rich. The New York City apparel manufacturer differs little from the welding contractor in Tulsa. They typically have traditional values and live frugally. Would you believe that 37 percent of millionaires buy used cars?

Most millionaires don't fit the popular image of "The Great Gatsby." They're hard-working people: paving contractors, rice farmers, scrap metal dealers. Millionaires work 45 to 55 hours a week in their own businesses. They don't throw their money around. According to Stanley, an IRS study on the wealthy concluded that "these people are more interested in saving than they are in consuming.

That's how they accumulate wealth."

In a recent interview, Stanley distinguished between millionaires in assets and millionaires in income. Earn $250,000 a year for four consecutive years, and politicians classify you as a millionaire. Not so, said Stanley — that's income.

The traditional definition of a millionaire is a person with net worth of $1 million or more. In fact, according to Stanley's book, the average millionaire has an annual household income of $131,000.

How do you become a millionaire on $131,000 a year?

The trick is to accumulate wealth. The people Stanley calls "under-accumulators of wealth" spend tremendous amounts of money on leased cars, credit and other culprits of wealth. About 85 percent of millionaires, on the other hand, seldom spend more than $360 on a suit or $27,000 on a car.

Would you like to be the neighborhood millionaire? Follow the example of the self-made millionaires: Be self-reliant, live frugally, and invest wisely.

State phone service rated best in nation

Mississippi consumers enjoy the nation's top-rated local telephone service according to the 1997 J. D. Power and Associates study of customer satisfaction with local telephone service.

The study is based on interviews with residential telephone customers of all major U.S. local telephone companies. Consumers evaluated their local company on key areas of customer satisfaction, including cost of service, corporate image, promotions, call quality, billing and operator services. "We're delighted with this recognition," said J. Kelly Allgood, BellSouth president-Mississippi.

"It is especially meaningful to BellSouth for two reasons: first, the recognition comes from our customers; second, we also earned top ranking in last year's J. D. Power and Associates customer satisfaction results, the first time local telephone service was included in the study."

According to Allgood, "In addition to the 1996 and 1997 J. D. Power studies, BellSouth was recognized as the nation's leading consumer telephone service provider in two other 1996 customer satisfaction surveys.

One was a survey conducted by national telecommunications consultant The Yankee Group, and the other was the 1996 American Customer Satisfaction Index, conducted by the University of Michigan Business School and the American Society of Quality Control and published in Fortune Magazine."

Allgood said that BellSouth would like to bring its customer focus to the long distance service category in future surveys.

"We believe BellSouth has amply demonstrated its ability to deliver outstanding local phone service and we are working to be allowed to bring that same standard of customer satisfaction to long distance service."

vice. Hopefully, our customers will be able to benefit from a truly competitive telecommunications market in the near future."

Allgood stressed that BellSouth's success is the product of a partnership between the company and the Communications Workers of America that stresses customer satisfaction.

"It would be impossible to have achieved the high level of customer approval evidenced by these studies without the commitment of each member of the BellSouth team, both union and management."

BellSouth is a $19 billion communications service company. It provides telecommunications, wireless communications, directory advertising and publishing, Internet and information services to more than 28 million customers in 20 countries worldwide.

SouthBell's telecommunications operations provide service over one of the most modern telecommunications networks in the world for nearly 23 million telephone lines in a nine-state region that includes Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Summer Job Program teaches work skills

"It was one of my best summers ever," commented Julie Heitzmann, a University of Southern Mississippi student. She was one of 22 students hired this summer by Coast Electric Power Association to take part in the company's 10-week Summer Job Program.

Students from ages 18-23 are given the opportunity to gain valuable work experience in a variety of career positions. Through the years, this program has guided many students by helping them decide on their career. It has trained future electrical engineers, draftsmen and accountants. Many others learn about office procedures and clerical work, maintenance and customer service.

"We are proud to have these young people working with us," commented Marilyn Sefton, director, Human Resources. "Their help and assistance makes everyone's job a bit easier," she added.

Working this year in the Summer Job Program were Patricia Baldree, Joshua Bel-low, Emily Burke, Brett Cuevas, Kenneth Cuevas, Deanna Dossett, Claude Green III, Michael Guidry, David Harrelson, Julie Heitzmann, Frances Holston, Dennis Knight, Jonathan Knight, Joshua Ladner, Charles Malley, William Miller, Alan Moran Jr., Bradley Pernicario, Destiny Sable, Donna Waver, Hali Weaver and Alric Wise.

Coast Electric is also active in the Cooperative Education Program coordinated through Mississippi State University and the University of Southern Mississippi. Co-op students participating in Coast Electric's program are Jennifer Kelley, John Barnes, Shea Ladner, John Moore, Bill Miller, Jay Santinelli, Crystal Hoda, Steven Cooksey, Marvin Krankey and Jason Bernard.

Computer workshops

The University of Southern Mississippi's Small Business Development Center will offer two hands-on computer workshops later this month.

The workshops — "Using Microsoft Excel for Your Small Business" and "Access Database for Beginners" — will be taught Sept. 23 and 25. The Microsoft Excel course runs from 9 a.m.-noon both dates. The Access Database workshop will be held from 5-8 p.m.

The fee for either workshop is $99 and must be paid in advance because of limited seating.

Tourism inquiries up 88 percent

The number of consumers in July requesting Mississippi travel information increased more than 88 percent from the July 1996 figure, according to the Mississippi Department of Economic and Community Development (MDECD), Tourism Development.

In July 1997, the division responded to 38,124 consumer inquiries, compared to 20,263 information requests in July 1996. The additional 17,861 inquiries reflected an increase of 88.16 percent.

"Several advertising activities promoting Mississippi began in July and hoped generate the increase in inquiries," said Vaughn Stinson, director of the MDECD Tourism Development Division.

A direct mail advertising campaign to individuals who had previously requested Mississippi travel information encouraged them to call 1-800-WARMEST for the state's new education of the Mississippi Travel Planner. More than 15,000 people responded to this campaign during July.

New television commercials began airing on the Home & Garden Television cable channel and generated 353 inquiries during the month.

The division also renewed its advertising on the popular cable outdoor television show, Hunt in the Country. The first four episodes of the 13-show series generated more than 956 inquiries for additional information.

"Advertising is a vital part of the mix we use to promote the Mississippi tourism product," said Stinson. "The dollars we invest in this activity translate to visitor expenditures in Mississippi."

The Mississippi Division of Tourism Development promotes Mississippi as a destination for business and leisure travel, operates the state's 10 welcome centers and includes the Mississippi Film Office.

Business person of the year nominations sought by SBA

Do you or someone you know have what it takes to become America's "Small Business Person of the Year" for 1998? If so, the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) wants to hear from you.

"The small business person represents the modern American Dream — the chance for someone with an idea and a goal to make the fullest use of his or her own abilities by taking that goal, that dream, and making something very real out of it. Small Business Week is an opportunity for all of us to acknowledge with pride and gratitude the contributions made by America's small business community to our nation's economic growth and quality of life," said Aida Alvarez, SBA's administrator.

Each year since 1963, the President has designated one week as National Small Business Week in recognition of the small business community's contributions to the American economy. Small businesses today, some 22 million strong, generate more than 47 percent of all sales in this country, 51 percent of our domestic private sector output and about 55 percent of all innovations. Small businesses also lead the nation in job creation, providing about two-thirds of all new jobs.

Business owners from every state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Guam, who have been named as their state's "Small Business Person of the Year," travel to Washington for three days of small business-related activities and meetings with government officials. One of the state winners is chosen as the national "Small Business Person of the Year."

Traditionally, the national winner is announced by the President of the United States during a White House ceremony.

Each state's Small Business Person of the Year must meet criteria which include staying power, growth in employment, increase in sales/unit volume, innovation, response to adversity and evidence of contributions to his/her community.

Advocate awards are also presented to persons who have used their professional skills or personal talents to further public understanding and awareness of small business. Candidates must have taken an active role in creating opportunities to promote the interests of small business. Advocate categories include: Women in Business, Minority, Veteran, Accountant, Financial Services, and Media. An advocate winner may or may not be an entrepreneur.

Special awards are also presented to the Small Business Exporter and SBA Young Entrepreneur of the Year, and the Federal Government Prime Contractor and Subcontractor of the Year. Large companies that started as small businesses are also honored with the Entrepreneurial Success Award.

Nominations in the Small Business Person of the Year, Advocates of the Year and special Small Business Week award categories can be made by any individual or organization such as professional and trade associations, business organizations, chambers of commerce, banks or a small business' employees.

All nominations must be received by the SBA district office no later than Nov. 3. To obtain information on completing a nomination package, contact your nearest SBA office.

For the location of the SBA office in your area, consult the U.S. government listings in your telephone directory or call the SBA's Answer Desk at 1-800-827-5722.

SSC Procurement Office opens Industry Assistance Office

The NASA Procurement Office at the John C. Stennis Space Center (SSC) has created the Industry Assistance Office to help small businesses obtain government contracts.

The NAIS allows industry to

Database workshop

The University of Southern Mississippi's Small Business Development Center is offering a workshop, "Access Database for Beginners" Tuesday, Sept. 23 and Thursday, Sept. 25 from 5-8 p.m. at the USM Small Business Development Center Computer Resource Center, 136 Beach Park Place, Long Beach.

The $99 fee must be paid in advance due to limited seating. To prepay, mail your check made payable to USM SBDC (by Sept. 18) to USM Small Business Development Center, 136 Beach Park Place, Long Beach, MS 39560.

have instant access to current NASA acquisition requirements and information over the Internet.

The NAIS is composed of interconnected servers located at each NASA field installation allowing potential vendors access to acquisition information for all of NASA's sites.

Vendors without Internet access will be able to make an appointment to come to the SSC facility to use them system. Once logged in, they can download synopses and information about various NASA projects on which they may bid.

Vendors with Internet access can view synopses as well as how-to-bid information at <http://procurement.nasa.gov>. In the future, users will be able to download Freedom of Information Act documents from the system.

"The installation of this dedicated computer illustrates NASA's commitment to assisting the small business community in obtaining government contracts," said Jane Johnson, small business specialist for the Procurement Office.

"We're happy to help the small business owner in any way we can."

Vendors interested in using the computer at the new Industry Assistance Office should call Jane Johnson at 601-688-3681 to schedule an appointment.

Engler said the U.S. Corps of Engineers would also be notified, using claims that it the 70-foot ship is a hazard to navigation and close to the shipping channel.

"But, it's just outside the shipping channel, and they might determine it's not in their jurisdiction," he said.

Lynn Lofton, spokesperson for the DMR, said that agency frequently gets requests to raise sunken vessels.

"We have the authority to do it, but unfortunately it takes time to follow the proper, legal procedures," said Lofton.

She explained that DMR this year earmarked $100,000 in Tidelands monies to use for raising derelict and abandoned vessels. This coming fiscal year another $150,000 is coming to the DMR for that task.

"But, we have to follow the legal requirements," she explained.

Lofton said the DMR has determined the last owner of the vessel resides in Gulfport.

"Hopefully, he'll move it on

his own," she said.

"But, if he doesn't, we must wait 90 days until we formally notify him that the vessel is abandoned and derelict, and then, he has 30 days to act."

That means, unless the owner acts, it will be into late December that something could be done about the vessel.

Landfill

came before Pearl River County Supervisors with a petition in opposition to the proposed landfill, and asked the board's help in fighting the future dumpsite.

Hancock County supervisors also met that same day, and received a copy of a letter sent to Les Fillingame, the chairman of the county's Solid Waste District.

The letter, written by Picayune city manager L. Kay Johnson, also raised concerns about the proposed dumpsite in northwest Hancock County.

"We see the possibility of a potential hazard to an ongoing project in Pearl River County," said Johnson, (namely) "the new Picayune Airport."

Johnson pointed out that the city recently let bids for the final phase of the airport, and was anticipating completion in the first part of 1998. The airport is located partly in the NASA buffer zone near the Pearl River-Hancock County line.

Johnson also pointed out that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency requires any operator proposing a landfill within five miles of an airport to notify the Federal Aviation Administration, and that the FAA requires a proposed landfill must be at least 10,000 feet from either end of a runway.

Hancock supervisors also received a petition from Keith Gravious, with the signature of 63 residents of the Flat Top Community, mostly from Hancock County, who oppose the site.

Contacted by the Echo, Fillingame said talks with any of the proposed developer are merely in the initial stages, and any plan that goes forward would require public hearings since the county would have to amend its Solid Waste Management Plan on file with the state Department of Environmental Quality.

The problem arose, Fillingame said, when the Solid Waste District began advertising Sept. 7 in the Echo for month-to-month operations of a new rubbish site, deciding it wants to close the downgraded Standard site as soon as possible because of escalating costs.

"They're mixing apples with oranges," Fillingame said.

The proposal we advertised is for a rubbish site and an amount they will charge per yard to dispose of our Class I rubbish that hopefully will be substantially less than what we are now paying," said Fillingame.

He explained that a rubbish site accepts no household garbage, the primary product that is disposed of in landfills.

Bids will be open on that proposal when the District meets at 10 a.m. on Sept. 24.

The 450-acre tract of rolling timberland that is the subject of opposition is owned by Trash Hunters of Hattiesburg, doing business as Mississippi Waste of Hancock County. It lies on the east side of NASA's north gate, north of Hwy. 43, south of Texas Flat Road and East of Hwy. 607, near Dead tiger Creek.

The site is approximately 1.8 miles from the Pearl River-County line and 2.5 mile from Hwy. 43.

The firm's principal owners are Bennett York and his daughter, Paige.

Trash Hunters currently operates landfills north of Jackson and in Tunica and is in the process of getting another permitted and operating in Memphis.

Another site under consideration for a combination rubbish site/landfill lies on the west side of NASA's north entrance near needs over the next 10 years.

The College Board of New York has been contracted to conduct the study. Study director Henry Brickell said his team will be seeking the viewpoints of people booth inside and outside the Gulf Coast area about what would be both desirable and feasible.

"To get those viewpoints, they are using a combination of techniques," said Chamber Director Cindy Vernon. "They understand that this is an important project for the people of Mississippi, and especially Hancock County."

Educational leaders and lawmakers have repeatedly stressed the need and importance of having a four-year, public college located on the Coast.

In the spring, the Legislature passed a bill mandating that the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning, in cooperation with the State Board for Community and Junior Colleges, study higher education needs along the Gulf Coast.

"The College Board pans widespread public and professional participation both in generating and in evaluating ideas," said Thomas D. Layzell, the Commissioner of Higher Education. "We regard this activity as essential for planning the future of higher education in the Gulf Coast region."

Huntley Biggs of Mississippi Power said the consultants want to learn about what education programs are needed and what programs must be developed to meet those needs.

"We are seeking input as to the kinds of workforce skills and educations needed to promote the economic growth and development of the Gulf Coast," Huntley said. "Economic development is a competitive business and a well-trained and educated workforce is a vital consideration in locating new business."

A toll-free number has been established so residents can express their needs and idea. The number is 1-888-823-0045. The line is open 24 hours a day.

Meetings have also been scheduled in Jackson and Harrison county.

Dr. Sherry Ponder is the local coordinator.

Committee

about adopting a preservation ordinance that can be reasonably administered in the city of Bay St. Louis," said Cuevas.

The National Register listings that form the baseline for the committee's work were compiled in 1976, and many have been destroyed over the years. Cuevas said. In the meantime, other properties have aged to the point of taking on historic significance, and should be considered for inclusion in the Register.

That step alone actually does little to prevent a property owner from demolishing an old structure or making drastic changes to it. National Register designation means that no federal projects which impact an historic property can proceed until state and federal historic officials agree.

Just how "reasonable" and far-reaching the proposed regulations will be in Bay St. Louis clearly is the heart of the committee's work.

Several members said Tuesday they want nothing as elaborate -- and restrictive -- as regulations in the New Orleans French Quarter. Some historic city laws cover every detail of changes to historic properties. Other laws are more liberal, but still forbid outright demolition of old buildings.

Committee members said they may want to recommend different regulations within areas of the city's historic district, to avoid imposing inappropriate rules in sections of town that don't need full-blown regulation.

Gray said the 1976 survey of Bay St. Louis' stock of historic properties resulted in boundary lines that "zig zag" along the city. Updating the Register should result in expanding the historic district's boundaries, he said, straightening out the delineation of the area under regulation.

To help the committee launch its work, Gray and Cuevas have amassed information from state and national preservation officials. The materials include a "how to" book on creating historic districts, and details on writing design guidelines.

Cuevas said the committee's work may have the positive offshoot of pulling neighborhood residents together in common interests.

Gray, president of the Hancock County Historical Society, said the group may hold some meetings at the Society's headquarters on Cue Street.

All the meetings are open to the public.

Cuevas said the committee may want to set public hearings as the work advances.

Gray stressed that the committee's recommendations will address only things that are done with historic properties in the future. And he emphasized that the goal is to develop a "reasonable" set of regulations.

The group set its next meeting for Oct. 14. Members include: Jim Henrie, Dorothy McLeMore, Evie Gordan, Meg Hilliker, Carter Church, Lee Purcell, Gloria Payne, Roy Dedeaux, Alexander Brown, Jeff Nancarvis, Kevin Fitzpatrick, and Charles Gray.

One more appointment to the committee is to be made by Mayor Eddie Favre.

Juried exhibition of art opens at WAMA

The Walter Anderson Museum of Art opened its first juried exhibition of contemporary art, "CrossCurrents", on September 13. The exhibition features the art of 72 artists from throughout the nation, representing a wide variety of works including paintings, sculpture, drawings, pottery, mixed media, photography, fiber and jewelry.

Response to the museum's call for entries for "CrossCurrents" exceeded expectations, with artists from nearly every state in the U.S. requesting prospectus information. The jurors reviewed more than 600 entries when selecting the pieces for "CrossCurrents," and awarded a $500 Best In Show and three $300 Merit Awards at the opening of the exhibition.

"Throughout the ages, humankind's unceasing desire to create images has served many purposes in society, whether illustrating the unseen world of spirit, evoking the majesty of nature, exploring the innermost realms of imagination or raising our awareness of social injustice," said Clayton Bass, executive director for WAMA.

"In all of these ways and many more the arts are a reflection of a society, a pulse that defines and reveals much about a culture," added Bass. "CrossCurrents" provides a rich overview of our culture, in transition at the end of century, as it serves many other purposes. Not only does it bring together a diverse pool of talents who explore numerous artmaking disciplines, but also affirms the Walter Anderson Museum of Art's commitment to exhibiting the works of important emerging artists and the rich educational possibilities that are created by such a partnership."

The jurors are Akua McDaniel, Ph.D. and Brent Funderburk. Dr. McDaniel is an Associate Professor of Art History at Spelman College in Atlanta, and is the current Interim Director of the college's Museum of Fine Art. She served as a consultant to the Corporation for Olympic Development for the Atlanta University Promenade Sculpture Program, and was the Visual Arts Consultant and Chief Curator for the National Black Arts Festival. She is author of more than a dozen publications on African-American art.

Funderburk is a professor and head of the Department of Art at Mississippi State University. He has taught at the university level for more than 17 years, and is a widely-exhibited practicing artist in painting. Among his other honors, he was awarded the John Grisham Faculty Excellence Award in 1994. He has taught "Encounters," a studio art course examining the multi-faceted creative vision of Walter Inglis Anderson, since 1985.

Special events during the "CrossCurrents" exhibition include special guided gallery walks and the WAMA JAMA, a special "fun-raiser" with a Caribbean theme which will be held September 20. "CrossCurrents" will be on display through October 19. Also on display will be a new exhibit from the museum's collection of art by Walter Anderson in the Permanent Collection Gallery.

"CrossCurrents" is made possible through the generous support of the following donors: Jo Love Little, Jeanne and Alwyn Luckey, Gully & Associates, and an anonymous friend of the museum.

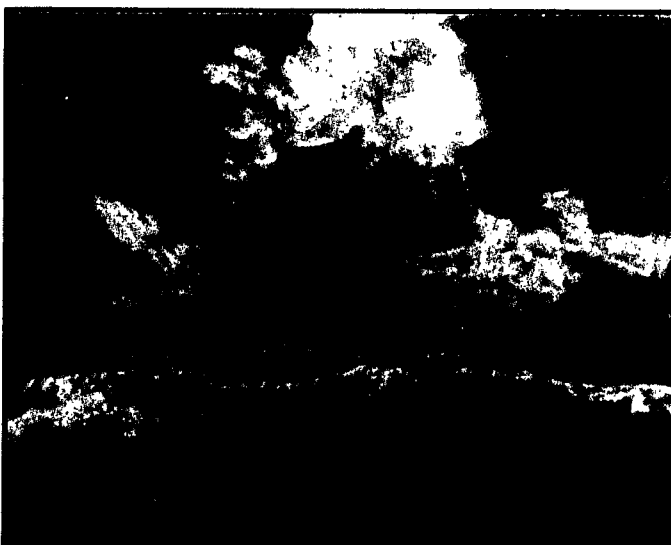

Museum hours are Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sunday, 1-5 p.m. Admission is $4 for adults, $1.50 for children 6 to 12 (children under six free), and $3 for seniors and students. For group rates or more information call 872-3164.

Bay St. Louis Little Theater to hold auditions

Bay St. Louis Little Theater is holding auditions for "Sylvia" today, September 14 at 3 p.m. and Monday, September 15 at 6 p.m. at the Playhouse on Boardman Avenue.

The comedy, about a "she-followed-me-home" dog, Sylvia (played by a human), has parts for three women and three men.

Production dates are October 24, 25, 31 and November 1-2.

The play, by A. R. Gurney, was a smash hit in New York last year.

For information, call director Sherry Schwabacher at 467-0952.

MSU pictorial calendar on sale

Following a successful debut last year of Mississippi State's pictorial calendar, the university's 1998 version is now on sale.

The hanging wall unit features a larger format to better highlight campus scenes captured by award-winning university photographers Fred Faulk and Russ Houston.

The famous Maroon Band, historic Lee Hall, and Bulldog baseball are among the full-color images in the 12-by-18-inch, 14-month daily registers.

Along with major holidays, academic, athletic and special campus events are noted in this latest production.

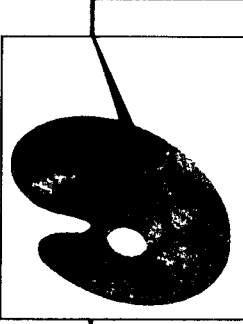

The calendars can be purchased in one of several ways, including telephoning the development office at (601) 325-3410, or by writing in care of P.O. Box 6149, Mississippi State, MS 39762-6149.

Order forms are included in the soon-to-be published fall issue of Mississippi State Alumnus magazine and in the recently published "Mississippi State University Connection" newsletter. American Express, MasterCard and Visa are welcome.

Credit card orders also may be made over the Internet by visiting www.msstate.edu, then clicking on "Alumni and Friends."

The calendars sell for $9.95 each. Mail orders should include an additional $1.95 for the shipping and handling of one calendar and 45 cents for each additional copy. Mississippi residents must add seven percent sales tax.

Checks should be made payable to the Mississippi State University Foundation.

ARTIN' ABOUT

The Academy of Contemporary Realism in Covington offers fall and winter sessions with a curriculum focusing on contemporary realism.

The Northshore based school offers 10-week sessions at $220 for the term.

Courses include Exploring Painting, Design and Color, Figure Drawing from Life, Painting from a 2D Reference, Drawing on the Right Side of the Brain, Landscape Painting from Nature, The Art of Painted Finishes and Introduction to Oil and Acrylic.

Fall classes begin September 23. Winter classes begin January 6. A one-week advance registration and 50% deposit are required to reserve enrollment. Weekend and weekday classes are available.

For information call Adrian Deckbar, 866-9414 or Georgis Ross at 522-7976 or write 826 Cherokee St., New Orleans, LA 70118.

NOMA exhibition

A "born instinct" drove Louisiana John Lolley to begin collecting as a child. Now, the fruits of one of his loves will be featured in the exhibition La Belle Epoque: Art Glass from the Collection of John W. Lolley, circa 1880-1920, now through November 1 at the New Orleans Museum of Art.

Pearson paintings

Waveland artist Joseph Anthony Pearson had two out of three paintings he submitted accepted to the 18th Southwest Black Arts Competition.

The annual national competition is sponsored by the African American Museum in Dallas, Texas.

Pearson's work is described as social realism, that is, his work is done in a representational style with social overtones.

His work is often spoken of with reference to a reminiscence of Edward Hopper.

However, Pearson acknowledges familiarity and study of Hopper's work, but contends his major influence has been his former teacher and long-time friend and mentor, Hughie Lee-Smith.

Pearson's work can be seen at Gulf Coast Community College Jackson County in September. Pearson can be reached at 688-4816, fax (601) 688-7080.

AARP Chapter 1114

The Hancock County AARP Chapter 1114 will be 25 years old this year, celebrating its silver anniversary.

The monthly meeting of Chapter 1114 will reconvene Monday, Sept. 15 at 10 a.m. at the American Legion Post 77 on Coleman Avenue in Waveland.

Guest speaker will be Beverly Morrison, field manager for Prudential Insurance Co., speaking on AARP health insurance for senior citizens.

United Way Priority grants awarded

The United Way of South Mississippi recently awarded five Priority Grants totaling $50,000 to agencies supported by the organization in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties.

The grants, which are awarded annually, were implemented in 1996 to encourage development of programs addressing critical needs throughout the Gulf Coast community.

Priority Grants, designed to serve as seed money for new programs, were derived from the 1995 Community Needs Assessment conducted by the United Way of South Mississippi.

The study revealed two important areas in immediate need of additional funding — greater access to basic resources through emergency assistance services as well as programs for youth, particular those focused on crime and drug use prevention.

Kenny Glavan, general manager of the Travel Lodge in Biloxi, currently serves as the chairman of the Priority Grant Task Force, an all-volunteer committee. After evaluating several applications, the task force presented Priority Grants to the following:

Hancock Doll and Toy Fund with $10,000, Moore Community House with $6,000, the Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse with $12,500, the Harrison County 4-H with $2,500, the American Red Cross with $6,000 and the Boys and Girls Club with $13,000.

Glavan said, "The committee took their responsibility to distribute the funds seriously as Priority Grants represent the answer to many community-wide needs. We had some tough decisions to make in the evaluation process as all the grant applicants represented strong candidates, but we are pleased with our selections knowing the funds will be well used."

The Priority Grant Program awarded $37,769 last year. The funds distributed to the agencies are in addition to the normal annual allocations by the United Way of South Mississippi.

The United Way of South Mississippi was organized in 1992. The Coastwide organization currently represents over 40 non-profit agencies bringing support and services to area residents in need.

Did you know that there is a rainforest in Diamondhead? Well, there is! Rain Forest Pets is located in Diamondhead Plaza at 4402 E. Aloha Drive.

Lacia Tridico, owner of Rain Forest Pets is living a life long dream. Lacia earned a degree from Loyola University in Biology and always had the intention of working with animals. Her love of animals prompted her to open Rain Forest Pets.

This new Diamondhead business carries a complete line of pet supplies and accessories including Iams Pet Food and Releve, a one step flea treatment to protect your pet from harmful fleas and ticks.

Rain Forest Pets offers a variety of tropical fish such as exotic and beautiful lion fish, tanga, the multi colored clown trigger fish and snowflake moray eels just to name a few. The shop also carries a large selection of freshwater fish as well as aquariums and a full line of fish supplies.

Rain Forest Pets has not forgotten about all those bird lovers out there. Exotic Blue Face Amazons, Sun Conures, Maroon Belly Conures and Cockatiels are looking for homes. (Maybe yours.) All the birds offered at Rain Forest Pets have been bred locally and are hand fed to ensure that they can be easily handled. The shop mascot is a gorgeous 5 month old blue and gold Macaw named Cleo, who is anxious to meet and greet every customer. Rain Forest Pets carries a full line of bird feed, supplies and a variety of cages. Going on vacation? Rain Forest Pets will be happy to board your feathered friends.

Small reptiles are also available at Rain Forest Pets as well as their fodder. Other small animals such as rabbits, hamsters and gerbils are calling Rain Forest Pets their temporary home.

Rain Forest Pets is open Tuesday through Saturday from 11AM to 7PM. They offer layaway and accept Visa and Mastercard. Visit Rain Forest Pets in Diamondhead and let Lacia and Cleo be your guide to your own tropical pet paradise. For more information call 255-8455.

The "WORD" for the Week

Dennis J. Prutow, Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

Several years ago, a noted TV anchor said, "Moses didn't come down from the mountain with the Ten Suggestions." He was laughed off the stage. More recently, a judge in the South was castigated for hanging the Ten Commandments in his courtroom. At the same time, the head of a prominent national legal organization said adultery is acceptable under certain circumstances. I wonder what her husband thinks. All this is surpassing strange.

Meanwhile, health teachers instruct teens in the techniques of "safe sex" and school dispensaries make condoms readily available. After all, you cannot condemn sex outside of traditional marriage. That would bring God's Ten Commandments into the picture and that would really be immoral.

It's politically incorrect to teach sexual abstinence to teens. Kids will do it anyway, right? At the same time it is politically correct to teach abstinence in other areas, like smoking. Smoking is hazardous to your health. Casual sex is hazardous to your health, too. Ask any husband, wife or child who has experienced the trauma of seeing their spouse or a parent involved in an affair. The pain associated with this kind of betrayal is immense.

God's immoral law

It's not immoral to live by God's commandments. It's immoral to reject them. There are universal standards for faithfulness and truth. God gave them in the Ten Commandments. Maybe He had something after all.

Annual Fish Fry

Main Street United Methodist Men's Annual Fish Fry was held Sunday, Aug. 24 following the 11 a.m. worship service in Bay St. Louis. Each year the men prepare the fish for the whole congregation. Everyone contributes favorite vegetables, salad and desserts in order to complete the feast. There is always plenty of food, fun and fellowship at this favorite annual event. Dave Skagerberg is shown preparing the fish.

Special liturgy at Coliseum marks 20th anniversary of diocese

On Sunday, Sept. 28, clergy, religious and laity from all 17 counties of the Catholic Diocese of Biloxi will gather at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum for a special 2 p.m. Mass to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the establishment of the Diocese of Biloxi, and the installation of Bishop Joseph L. Howze as the ordinary of the diocese.

Although the diocese was established and Bishop Howze installed on June 6, 1977, the bishop elected to schedule the anniversary celebration in late September to enable more people to attend this special liturgy of thanksgiving and celebration.

Magr. Ron Herzog, director of the diocesan Office of Liturgy, and pastor of St. Paul Church in Pass Christian, assisted by Phil Beining, organist and music director at the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary Cathedral in Biloxi, is coordinating the anniversary liturgy.

Since May, a 70-voice choir composed of parishioners representing each of the five deaneries throughout the diocese, have been rehearsing monthly.

"We're using a variety of arrangements including brass, strings and flutes to give a rich expression to the music," Magr. Herzog said. "The biggest problem has been getting a suitable organ," he added.

"Music will include an original composition by Jim Ballard of Bay St. Louis, and music from the Mass in honor of John Carroll," he explained.

"What we want, what the bishop wants, is a good liturgical celebration," he said, quickly adding, "a good liturgy, not an extravaganza."

Magr. Herzog said the entrance procession will be the "Litany of the Parishes" which names each of the 44 parishes in the diocese and the 13 mission churches in song, while those parish representatives process in. One or two youth representatives from each parish are being elected to participate in that procession.

Efforts are being made to include representatives of as many different ministries as possible in the liturgy. Catholic Social and Community Service staff members will be gift bearers at the Mass, and "males and females representing all cultures and ethnic groups will read the petitions," Magr. Herzog explained. Both the Knights of Columbus and the Knights of Peter Claver will also participate.

"I know nine bishops have responded already," Monsignor said of the invitations that were extended.

Those bishops planning to attend include Archbishop Philip Hannan and Francis Schulte and Bishop Gregory Aymond of New Orleans; Archbishop Oscar Lipscomb of Mobile, Bishop Michael Jerrell of Houma-Thibodaux, Bishop James Niederges of Nashville, Bishop J. Terry Stibe, SVD, of Memphis, Bishop Daniel Foley of Birmingham and Bishop William Friend of Shreveport.

Church names pastor

First Baptist Church in Waveland has called Talmadge Rayborn as pastor. Bro. Rayborn has previously pastored several churches in the Gulf Coast area.

He is a resident of Waveland.

The church members extend a cordial welcome to the community to hear him speak at the church services at 11 a.m. on Sundays and prayer service on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m.

The church is located at the corner of Jeff Davis and St. Joseph in Waveland.

Bro. Rayborn

If we posed the question, "how can this world be made a better place?", I am sure we would get many wonderful answers. If we could have world peace, or find a cure for cancer, or end world hunger, surely this would be a better world. Although all of these would be significant improvements, every time we do a good deed for someone, no matter how small, we are helping to make this a better world. In the Bible, Jesus told the parable of the good Samaritan who came upon the man who was beaten, robbed, and left lying along the wayside. The Samaritan ministered to the man's wounds and then took him to an inn where he was attended to. We may never encounter a situation like that of the good Samaritan, but any act of genuine charity is worthy of God's approval. Our Heavenly Father wants us to do good to others, as we would want them to do to us. He knows, that by us doing good, we make this a better world.

Bonds maturing on September 1, 2008 and thereafter, are subject to redemption prior to their stated date of maturity, either in whole or in part, in inverse order of maturity and by lot within a maturity on September 1, 2007, or on any one or more Interest Payment Dates thereafter, at the option of the School District, at a call price, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption. The School District will appoint the Paying and Transfer Agent for the Bonds after receiving the recommendation of the successful bidder, subject to the following conditions. The Paying and Transfer Agent shall be a bank or trust company located within the State of Mississippi. The Paying Agent and/or Transfer Agent shall be subject to the terms and conditions of the Bonds, the conditions and in the manner provided in the Bond Resolution under which the Bonds are issued. The successful bidder must deliver to the Transfer Agent within thirty (30) days of the date of sale, or at such other later date as may be designated by the School District, the names and addresses of the Registered Owners of the Bonds and the denominations in which the Bonds of each maturity are to be issued. If the successful bidder fails to submit such information to the Transfer Agent by the required time, one bond may be issued for each maturity in the full amount maturing on the date registered in the name of the successful bidder. Both principal and interest on the Bonds shall be payable by check or draft mailed on the Interest Payment Date to Registered Owners of the Bonds as of the 15th day of month preceding the maturity date for such principal or interest payment at the address appearing in the registration records of the School District maintained by the Transfer Agent. Payment of principal at maturity shall be made by the School District and the surrender of the Bonds at the principal office of the Transfer Agent. The Bonds will be transferable only upon the records of the School District maintained by the Transfer Agent. The Bonds shall not bear a greater overall maximum interest rate to maturity than eleven percent (11%) per annum, and shall mature in the amounts and on the dates hereinafter set forth. No Bond shall bear more than one (1) rate of interest; each Bond shall bear interest from its date to its stated maturity date at the interest rate or rates specified in the bid; all Bonds of the same maturity shall bear the same rate of interest from date to maturity. The lowest interest rate specified shall not be less than seventy percent (70%) of the highest interest rate specified; each interest rate specified must be an integral multiple of one eighth of one percent (1/8 of 1%) or one-tenth of one percent (1/10 of 1%), and a zero rate cannot be named. The interest rate for any one maturity shall not exceed eleven percent (11%) per annum. The Bonds will be general obligations of the School District payable as to principal and interest out of and secured by an irrevocable pledge of the assets of a direct and continuing tax to be levied annually without limitation as to time, rate or amount upon the taxable property within the geographical limits of the School District. The School District will annually a special tax upon all taxable property within the geographical limits of the School District adequate and sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and the interest on the Bonds as the same falls due. The School District has applied for bidder's option bond insurance. Bidders should directly contact Lucile L. Bourgeois, Esquire, Crockett/Turner, PLLC, Jackson, Mississippi (Bond Counsel), for further information prior to the sale date. The School District will designate the Bonds as qualified tax-exempt obligations within the meaning and for the purposes of Section 265(b)(3) of the Code. Proposals should be addressed to "Proposals for General Obligation School Bonds, Series 1997, of Bay St. Louis/Waveland School District, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi," and should be delivered to the Secretary of the School District on or prior to the date and hour hereinabove set forth. The School District has obtained the required pre-approval under Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (42 U.S.C. § 1973c) under the terms of a letter dated August 12, 1997 from the U.S. Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division (the "Justice Department"), regarding the School Bond Election held on May 13, 1997 for the issuance of the Bonds. The Justice Department has reserved certain rights until September 23, 1997, to make additional comments on their conditional approval on the election held on May 13, 1997 for the issuance of the Bonds. The Bonds cannot be delivered until after September 23, 1997, or such later date determined by any further request for information by the Justice Department. It is not anticipated that the Justice Department will provide any further comments and that the Bonds will be able to be issued after September 23, 1997. Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check, or cashed check, or certified by a bank located in the State of Mississippi, payable to Bay St. Louis/Waveland School District, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in the amount of One Hundred Eighty Thousand Dollars ($180,000.00) as a guaranty that the bidder will carry out its contract and purchase the Bonds if its bid is accepted. If the successful bidder fails to purchase the Bonds pursuant to its bid and contract, the amount of the cashed check or cashier's check retained by the School District as liquidated damages for such failure. No interest will be allowed on the amount of the good faith deposit. All checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned immediately upon award of the Bonds. All proposals shall remain firm and binding until the time specified for the opening of proposals and an award of the Bonds, or rejection of proposals, will be made by the School District within said period of time. The award, if any, will be made to the bidder complying with the terms of sale and offering to purchase the Bonds at the lowest net interest cost to the School District. The net interest cost shall be determined by computing the aggregate interest on the Bonds over the life of the issue at the rate or rates of interest specified by the bidder, less premium offered, if any. It is requested that each proposal be accompanied by a statement of the net interest cost (computed to six decimal places), but such statement will not be considered a part of the proposal. The Governing Body reserves the right to reject any and all bids submitted and to waive any irregularity or informality. The obligation of the purchaser to purchase and pay for the Bonds is conditioned on the delivery, at the time of settlement of the Bonds, of the following: (1) the approving legal opinion of Crockett/Turner, PLLC, Jackson, Mississippi, Bond Counsel, to the effect that the Bonds constitute valid and legally binding obligations of the School District payable from and secured by an irrevocable pledge of the assets of a direct and continuing tax to be levied annually without limitation as to time, rate or amount upon all the taxable property within the geographical limits of the School District and to the effect that the interest on the Bonds is exempt from Federal and Mississippi income taxes under existing laws, regulations, rulings and judicial decisions with such exceptions as shall be required by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, and (2) the delivery of certificates in form and order satisfactory to Bond Counsel evidencing the proper execution and delivery of the Bonds and receipt of payment therefor; and a statement of the School District, dated as of the date of such delivery, to the effect that there is no litigation pending or, to the knowledge of the signer or signers thereof, threatened relating to the issuance and delivery of the Bonds; a copy of said approving legal opinion will appear on or accompany the Bonds. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be printed on the Bonds unless specifically declined by the purchaser, but neither the failure to print such number on any Bond nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for a failure or refusal by the purchaser to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds in accordance with the terms of the purchase contract. All expenses in relation to the printing of CUSIP numbers on the Bonds shall be paid by the County, the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the purchaser. The School District has covenanted in its Bond resolution under SEC Rule 15c2-12, as amended, of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC Rule 15c2-12") that the School District will deliver or cause to be delivered annually, commencing with the fiscal year of the School District ending after January 1, 1997, to each nationally recognized municipal securities dealer in the repository "within the meaning of SEC Rule 15c2-12, and certain other entities described in SEC Rule 15c2-12, best price quotations and other information collected by the repository to the School District, including audited financial statements of the School District and (ii) notice on certain events, if any, relating to the Bonds and the School District, if the School District deems such events to be material, as set forth in SEC Rule 15c2-12, as amended. Anyone requesting information under the continuing disclosure requirements of SEC Rule 15c2-12, as amended, should contact the Superintendent, Bay St. Louis/Waveland School District, 201 Carroll Avenue, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39520 Telephone Number: (601) 467-6621.

The Preliminary Official Statement, dated August 25, 1997, has been "deemed final" as of such date by the School District with permitted omissions, subject to change without notice and to completion or modification in a final Official Statement (the "Official Statement"). The School District will make available to the successful bidder a reasonable number of Official Statements within seven (7) business days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and national holidays) of the award of the Bonds. The successful bidder shall conform to the requirements of SEC Rule 15c2-12, including an obligation, if any, to update the Official Statement and shall bear all costs relating thereto. During the period from the delivery of the Official Statement and including the date which is twenty-five (25) days following the end of the underwriting period for the Bonds (as described below) the School District shall notify the successful bidder if any event of which it has knowledge shall occur which might or would cause the Official Statement, as then supplemented or amended, to contain any untrue statement of a material fact or to omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. The successful bidder shall file the Official statement with a nationally recognized municipal securities information repository ("a Repository") at the earliest practicable date after the date of delivery of the Bonds. The successful bidder shall deliver or cause to be delivered to the Repository the Official Statement and the underwriting period shall mean the earlier of (a) the date of the Closing unless the School District has been notified in writing to the contrary by the Representative of the successful bidder on or before such date, or (b) the date on which the "end of the underwriting period" for the Bonds has occurred under SEC Rule 15c2-12. The successful bidder shall notify the School District of the date which is the "end of the underwriting period" within the meaning of the SEC Rule 15c2-12. For additional information concerning the sale and issuance of the Bonds, please contact the Superintendent of the School District, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, on August 25, 1997.

Seafood fest continues today at Point Cadet

The 16th Annual Biloxi Seafood Festival, held each September at Biloxi's Point Cadet Plaza, will feature a broad selection of the region's most popular cuisine prepared by some of the best chefs on the Coast.

This year's festival, which continues today has expanded the menu to offer visitors the opportunity to sample Jambalaya Pasta, Crawfish Etouffee, Softshell Crab PoBoys, Boiled Gulf Shrimp, Crawfish Ohr with Biloxi Bacon, Seafood Stuffed Jalapenos, Crawfish Beignets, Oyster and Eggplant Stuffing, Crawfish Gumbo, Seafood Gumbo, Breadpudding with Praline Sauce, and a host of other traditional southern dishes.

"You just can't find a better assortment of seafood dishes available in the same place at the same time," boasts festival chairman Rickey Mattice.

Festival goers can also participate in "Biloxi's Best Gumbo Contest" and the "Fastest Shrimp Picker Contest."

While Biloxi's famous seafood has always been a big draw to the festival, continuous entertainment and a throng of family activities contribute to its popularity. This year's festival, expected to draw over 15,000 people, will feature a kids fishing rodeo, kids cast net throwing and rod casting contest, a NASA exhibit with a mobile Space Shuttle, an Aquarium of the Americas Aqua Van, an Audubon Zoo mobile, power boat and race car exhibits, and a variety of other kids' games.

Adults will find plenty of fun too with a variety of arts and crafts booths, oyster shucking and cast net knitting displays, dance shows and contests, Sea Wolves hockey clinic, volleyball tournaments, basketball free throw contests and complimentary two hour "schooner" sails along Biloxi's beachfront.

Live music will be playing throughout the two-day long event including jazz, Cajun, reggae, top forty, country and rock.

In addition to events taking place on the festival grounds, the adjoining Maritime & Seafood Industry Museum and nearby J. L. Scott Aquarium will be offering free admission to the public.

Admission to the 16th Annual Biloxi Seafood Festival is $5 for adults, $2 ages 12-18, children under 12 free.

Pecan Festival set Sept. 27-28

The 11th Annual Mississippi Pecan Festival will be held Saturday, Sept. 27 and Sunday, Sept. 28 at Fulmer's Pecan Orchard off Hwy. 15 South of Rich-ton on Wingate Road.

Live craft demonstrations will be held throughout the day. They include chain saw artist Aurelio Castillo from Wichita Falls, Texas; J. B. Keith, dulcimer maker from Clinton; Betty Barnhill, wood carver, of Gulfport; Regina Deer, herb classes and sales, of Lumberton; Lyrin Morris and Sis Lauber, pine needle art and gourd baskets, from Hattiesburg; Ricky Fowler, knife maker, of Richton; Jerry Ratliff, knapper, of Brookhaven; Patrick Bodine, potter, of Long Beach; Fred Bailey, split oak baskets, of Laurel; Richard Byrd of Southland Sawmill from Green County.

There will also be entertainment throughout the day: a prettiest rooster contest; mule pull, Ms. Pecan Queen pageant; train rides; buggy rides, cash talent show, arts and crafts booths, food booths and much more.

Admission is $3 held rain or shine.

Gallery to feature 'Life Cycles'

The Sarah Gillespie Gallery will feature New Orleans artist Allison Stewart at William Carey College on the Coast Thursday, Sept. 25 with a reception from 7-9 p.m.

Titled "Life Cycles," Stewart will show a new body of work which was achieved through applying several layers of color which were manipulated when wet to create visually enticing texture.

A painting evolved slowly, through layers of gesso, paint, charcoal and glazes.

"I often work on the floor, circling around, building up, (and) performing those ritual gestures that are part of the process."

Her paintings are visual diaries, notations on which she records her personal artistic journey. They are about time, the effects of time on nature, and the obsessive need to leave her mark.

Her mixed media abstract paintings evoke a duality of substance and spirit, image and impression, matter and memory.

"Trained as a biologist, I am interested in natural patterns and processes, life cycles and the interrelationships of living things," says Stewart.

The exhibit will open Thursday, Sept. 25 with an opening reception from 7-9 p.m. Stewart will be having a slide presentation and a lecture at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to the reception and to view the collection free of charge.

The exhibit will run from Sept. 25 through Oct. 15 and may be viewed during regular gallery hours, 1-5 p.m. Monday-Thursday.

The gallery is located in the Fairchild Administration Building at William Carey College on the Coast in Gulfport.

For information, call Oona M. Elliott at 867-9232 or 867-9208.

Mystery Dinner Theater to benefit retreat house

Looking for some good food, and some really fun entertainment? You could go to St. James Parish Hall, to a church hall for food and entertainment at a Mystery Dinner Theater production.

As a creative method of fund raising, the Cenacle Gulf Coast Retreat Captains will host a dinner mystery theater, Catastrophe at the Crystal Coast Casino, Sept. 20 at 6:30 p.m. at St. James Parish Hall on Cowan Road in Gulfport.

All proceeds will benefit the Cenacle Retreat House in Metairie, which is run by the Cenacle Sisters.

According to retreat captain Sandra Crosby, the theme is "a murder mystery night where team players will be collecting clues throughout the evening to solve the mystery at the Crystal Coast Casino."

Audience participation is the key to this truly entertaining evening. Fourteen diners, seven men and seven women, are needed to portray characters.

Anyone interested in participating as a character should call Crosby at 392-5819, or Anne Godlewski at 374-0220 or 388-8192.

Tickets, which include hors d'oeuvres, dinner, dessert and one free drink, are $13.50 per person or $25 a couple, advanced purchase, or $15 per person at the door. Organizers are encouraging patrons to purchase blocks of tickets for a table of eight.

The evening's events also includes a silent auction and door prizes, and "T-shirts of the inaugural fund raiser will be available," Crosby said.

The 40-year-old Cenacle Retreat House, located on the south shore of Lake Pontchartrain, does not receive financial support from the Archdiocese of New Orleans, but instead maintains itself through retreats, a maintenance fund and donations.

For information, call Anne Godlewski at 374-0220 or 388-8192.

Fiddle-banjo contest slated in Leakesville

Plans are now underway for the Greene County Two Rivers Festival Fiddle Fest Saturday, Oct. 25 in Leakesville.

The festival will host an old-fashioned tap-your-foot, clap-your-hands bluegrass fiddle-banjo competition. The fiddle-banjo competition will be held in the Leakesville Junior High School Gymnasium and will begin at 6 p.m. Contestants will be competing for $600 in prize money and will compete in age divisions with the winner of each division advancing to a fiddle-off or banjo pick-off.

Admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for children. For information on the competition, entry forms, or rules of the event, contact Charlotte Fortinberry (day) 394-2379, (night) 394-2889; Barbara Byrd (night) 989-2955; Tammy Robertson (night) 394-5392 or Earlene McLain McGhee (night) 394-2733.

Fiddle Fest is a non-profit event.
